News Release:

Accutrex Products, Inc., located in Canonsburg, PA has recently added a state-of-the-art coating line to its Laminated Shim Stock Division. The company is already known in the industry as the manufacturer of the trademarked AccuPeel material. The addition of the coating line allows the company to control all facets of manufacturing, thus greatly reducing the turnaround time (to a matter of days) for their laminated shim stock. The new coater has taken the quality of their laminated shim materials to a new level by creating a very even, consistent peel throughout the entire sheet. Accupeel™ conforms to the specification AMS-DTL-22499 and is available in Aluminum, Brass, Stainless steel, Carbon Steel and Titanium. Accutrex has recently been recertified to the ISO 9001:2008 quality system and also manufactures custom shims, die-cut gaskets, metal stampings, special washers and sheet metal fabrications.
